IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH & PRESCHOOL
522 S. CHURCH STREET — WATERLOO, IL — 618.939.6480

From Our Administrative Pastor...

And do this, understanding the present time. The hour has come for you to wake up from your slumber, because our salvation is nearer now than when we first believed. The night is nearly over; the day is almost here. Romans 13:11-12

Dear Brothers and Sisters of Immanuel,

One of the least noticed things I do as a pastor is to create a greeting for Immanuel's voicemail. If you've ever called church when no one was in the office or when a staff member was already talking on the phone, you've probably heard this greeting. I identify the church, give the times of our worship services, and invite people to leave a message if they wish to talk to our secretary, Lisa, or to the pastor. Simple!

The only problem is this. The phone company only gives us a minute to record the greeting. If there are special services taking place at Immanuel, it's a mouthful to spit out the regular service times and the special service times in one minute! Sometimes I have to leave out a part of the regular greeting. What's more, sometimes it's a real balancing act trying to say what I have to say and speaking the greeting slowly and distinctly. Because I only have a minute to say it, I need to use the time wisely. I need to make the seconds count!

The same can be said of our lives in Christ. We only have a limited time on this earth. Jesus could call us home through death or return to earth in glory at any time! And so we need to use our time wisely. Make every second count. And that means carefully balancing our lives. Spending time at work and making a living, but also spending time with the Lord in daily prayer and devotions. Spending time at worship and Bible study with fellow believers. Spending time with loved ones and friends. Spending time at rest, exercise and refreshing activities. Leaving out any of these commitments of time can be harmful—harmful to one's body and soul!

And so let's be intentional about how we live our lives. Let's remember the Christian's priorities of God first, others second, and ourselves third. Remembering these priorities won't diminish us, but will make our lives rich, full, and a blessing to all those around us. Making the most of our time is the only way to go!

And so let's be intentional about how we live our lives. Let's remember the Christian's priorities of God first, others second, and ourselves third.

Speaking of using time wisely, our 8th grade catechumens have been spending their time studying the Bible and Luther's Small Catechism, writing essays about their confirmation verses, and preparing to publicly profess their faith in Jesus and the Triune God during the Rite of Confirmation to be held on Sunday, April 24.

Speaking of using time wisely, our 8th grade catechumens have been spending their time studying the Bible and Luther's Small Catechism, writing essays about their confirmation verses, and preparing to publicly profess their faith in Jesus and the Triune God during the Rite of Confirmation to be held on Sunday, April 24. These catechumens will read their essays during the services of April 16-17 and will then be confirmed during the 10:15 a.m. service on April 24. Talk about making every second count!

A "Note" from our Music Director

The "ALLELUIAS" are back! And, practices continue...

Did you miss saying and singing the "alleluias" during the Lenten Season?

It is always wonderful to hear the congregation join in singing the Hymn of Praise from LSB's Divine Service I on Easter morning.

"This is the feast of victory for our God....alleluia, alleluia..."

As voices are raised in sharing the joy of the resurrection news, not just in the singing of the Hymn of Praise, but also in many of the Easter hymn verses, the volume of those alleluias vibrate throughout the sanctuary; hopefully, even into the streets around the church! The somberness of Lent has passed, and the joyfulness of Easter is here!

Now comes the challenge? is it possible for us to continue the loud volume of those alleluias throughout the rest of spring, and into summer? Hopefully, so!

Since Easter was early this year, the Festivals of Pentecost and Holy Trinity will be celebrated before the month of June (before summer vacations begin). So, it is not too late in the music season to join the Adult Choir in the balcony for Wednesday evening practices for these and more services to sing at!

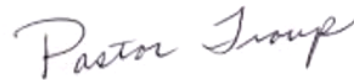

As always, if you have any questions, or about joining Immanuel's Music Ministry, please feel free to contact me.

Serving Him,

As always, I invite you to witness the profession of faith that these young Christians will make on Confirmation Sunday. They've been making the most of their time—and so should we. Let's make the most of our time by supporting and praying for these special young Christian men and women. Christ is risen! He is risen, indeed! Alleluia!

Love in Christ,

An Update from Our Missionary Partners...

Funke News: Messes

Having a two-year-old, we definitely see our fair share of messes. Some are fun activities that bring out creativity and joy, like playing with shaving cream or paint. Some are simply gross, such as Michael's diapers while he is being treated for a parasite. As we reflect on the last month, we've noticed that our lives in general can also get pretty messy. Often things don't quite go as planned. Timelines change. Relationships can get complicated. Yet, through the messes, we receive and share God's messages.

Our School

Classes are back in full swing. So far Linda has taught four classes on study skills, one on goal setting, and one on spiritual warfare/growing in your faith. The students also give Linda question cards during class and sometimes through Eric during the week. They cover a wide range of topics, such as how can I find good friends, why does God allow evil, how do I know if someone is a witch, and what can I do about pimples. Answering students' question cards has allowed Linda to continue to support the students even as she spends most of her time at home these days. Eric has been struggling to get all the students signed up for the e-learning program and to keep the internet up and running. Since this is the first year the school has used the Tanzanian national curriculum for computers and national exams are usually given in year 2 and 4, the school has administration has decided that Eric will begin that curriculum with Form 1, and those students won't take a national exam until next year. This decision has taken the pressure off of Eric to try to cover two years worth of topics in one year. We've begun movie nights again, and the students have loved The Nativity Story, Akeelah and the Bee, and Gifted Hands. One student even asked for our school to do its own spelling bee, so we'll see if we can work that into the schedule. Meanwhile the library and the two dorm extensions continue to progress. On Saturday, February 26th, Bishop Makala came to bless all three cornerstones. On the library, all the outside plaster is complete, the bars and windows are in, and the floors are close to being finished. Because the roof took longer than expected, the opening of the library/computer lab has been a bit delayed, but we hope to be able to move all the computers in this month!

Majid

We have received word that Majid's treatment is progressing well. The doctors are very hopeful that he will be able to walk. However, we have also received word that he will need special braces for a while, costing $2000. We pray that the Lord will provide the money so that the healing can continue. We may not be seeing immediate miracles of the lame walking again very often, but these gradual medical miracles still inspire awe in us.

Mwanza

This month we made our second trip to Mwanza as a family. We needed to meet our lawyer who will be handling our adoption court case, Alex Banturaki, on Monday morning. Thus, we decided to make a weekend out of it. We were able to catch up with Mwanza friends we had not seen in many months, and greatly enjoyed staying with the Peck family. This family has meant a lot to us. Rob is a pediatric doctor, Liz is a nurse, and they have five wonderful children, two of which were adopted out of the same baby home as Michael. They have been great about answering our adoption and medical questions, and the kids play with and look after Michael so well! We loved watching Michael play with the other kids, not having to cook, being able to swim with Michael for the first time in their pool (which he loved!), and joining their English Bible study and Sunday School. We all had a wonderfully refreshing weekend.

Adoption News

This month we finally received from the Ministry of Social Welfare our copy of the undertaking, the incredibly important document that says we have custody of Michael. Our regional and district social workers also came for a home study. We had expected them in the morning, but they ended up arriving in the evening. Thankfully, Michael had taken a great nap that day and was in a wonderful mood. He was so charming, and they said they would definitely write a positive report about our family. Yay! However, the meeting with our lawyer in Mwanza didn't go as hoped. We were apparently naively optimistic about our chances of bringing Michael to the U.S. to meet the rest of his family this summer. We've learned that the next steps—2 court dates, adoption petition, adoption order, adoption certificate,

Tanzanian passport, and U.S. visitor's visa—will likely take many months. Our case will be brought to the high court in Shinyanga, which is a relatively new court and has never had an adoption case. Our lawyer, who has completed dozens of adoption cases, will be traveling from Mwanza to represent us. We were told that it might be easier to get a court date in Shinyanga than in Mwanza. In Mwanza the courts are so overloaded that it takes 3-6 months to get a court date. We pray that the process moves more quickly in Shinyanga. All the same, it looks like the earliest we would be able to bring Michael to the U.S. is September. Learning about the lengthy process and adjusting our expectations was pretty discouraging, but we trust that God will continue to see us through this adoption rollercoaster.

Michael

Michael has now been with us for five months, and he makes us smile and laugh every day. Michael and Linda took one week off of homeschooling, but they have otherwise enjoyed Butterfly Week, Cloud Week and now Dog Week. He has also become a lot more comfortable with dogs this month, petting our neighbors' dogs and playing with the puppies at school. He loves to spin, play at the playground, throw and kick balls, and complete naps on his mama's legs. It is time to sign-up to attend our 5th annual FREE women's REFRESH & RENEW – MINI RETREAT, "Fulfilling Grace." It will be held on Saturday, April 23, 2016, from 9am to 11am, here at Immanuel.

Doors open at 8:30am for check-in. You will enjoy a delicious breakfast, a variety of music which will be sure to please and our excellent speaker, of course! This half-day event will give you a little time to relax and renew yourself and you will still have most of the weekend left!

For questions or to register – call the church office, 939-6480. You will also find information about this event and can register at <http://immanuelwaterloo.org/women/mini-retreat/>. The registration deadline is April 20th! Registering ahead of time helps to make our preparations easier, but keep in mind, walk-ins are also welcome! A freewill offering basket will be made available at the retreat.

You do not have to be a WCM member to attend. Don't forget to invite all of your girlfriends! Women from all over the area and many from other Christian denominations attend this retreat. There were 88 ladies in attendance last year and 100 in 2014—let's do that again this year! See page 11 for all the details!!

Would you like to help with this Mini Retreat by bringing a delicious breakfast treat such as a breakfast casserole, coffee cake, pastries, sweetbreads, or fresh fruit? If so, please contact Sharon Osterhage, 939-7180, and let her know what you plan to bring.

Thursday Evening Women's Bible Study – We began our Bible study series on March 31st. We are studying The Rock Speaks by Cindy Steinbeck. We'll continue this study through at least the end of May, so come join us at 7:00pm every Thursday in the overflow room! Books are available in the church office.
